

ANSI Member Discount

As part of the Department of Defense (DoD) membership in ANSI, which is funded for the DoD by the Defense Standardization Program Office, ANSI provides a member discount off the single-user purchase of qualified standards in their inventory. Up to a 20% discount is available on the standards collections below:

- ISO - International Organization for Standardization
- IEC - International Electrotechnical Commission
- AGMA - American Gear Manufacturers Association
- ASIS International
- ASSE - The American Society of Sanitary Engineering
- IEST - Institute of Environmental Sciences and Technology
- OPEI - Outdoor Power Equipment Institute
- PMMI - Packaging Machinery Manufacturers Institute

Be advised that discounts will be applied only on orders originating from a .mil email address.

All documents available for purchase at the ANSI Webstore are provided in Adobe Acrobat PDF format. ANSI neither sells nor ships documents in hard copy.

Note that ANSI will reference an end-user license agreement specific to the document you are ordering that will assist you in understanding the proper use of downloaded electronic standards. These agreements will be displayed during the ordering process for the purchaser to accept prior to the completion of the purchase.

To order documents, your organization's Government Purchase Card holder may visit the ANSI Webstore Store and use Discount Code 478 during the checkout process.
